

MEMORANDUM DCD #6, 2022-23

To: Chairs, University of Toronto Scarborough
Cc: Chairs' Assistants, Undergraduate Coordinators & Departmental Assistants
From: Professor Katherine R. Larson, Vice-Dean Teaching, Learning & Undergraduate Programs
Date: 27 October 2022
Re: Jackman Scholars-in-Residence (SiR) Program 2023 - Information Session
Note: For broad distribution

---

Dear Colleagues,

Faculty are invited to join me and Scholars-in-Residence (SiR) Project Manager, Ira Wells, for a live information session on the 2023 Jackman Scholars-in-Residence program for prospective faculty supervisors on:

9 November 2022, 11am - 12pm - via Zoom

The Scholars-in-Residence program provides faculty in the humanities and interpretive social sciences with 5 outstanding, paid research assistants (RAs) to work on research for the 4 weeks of the program (1-26 May 2023), as well as $2,000 in funds from the Jackman Humanities Institute (JHI) to support the activities of their research team.

In this information session for U of T Scarborough faculty, we will discuss:

- Successful strategies for incorporating RA teams in your project design
- Past Scholars-in-Residence projects, which can serve as models and inspiration
- Tips for crafting proposals
- How to maximize outputs of interdisciplinary RA teams

All research- and teaching-stream faculty in any unit affiliated with the JHI are invited to attend. The information session is currently open for registration online.

Applications from prospective faculty supervisors for the 2023 Jackman Scholars-in-Residence program are due on 23 November.

Questions about the Scholars-in-Residence program and the upcoming information session can be directed to the SiR Project Manager, Ira Wells ira.wells@utoronto.ca.

We hope to see you there.

Kind regards,

Katherine R. Larson

Vice-Dean Teaching, Learning & Undergraduate Programs
Office of the Vice-Principal Academic & Dean