Re: Academic Continuity Resources

Good evening everyone,

As a follow-up to this morning's zoom meeting, I'm writing to emphasize that the Academic Continuity Resources on the UTSC SharePoint have been and continue to be updated with additional information for instructors. Please remind instructors to refer to the site regularly over the next while. It would be a good idea to bookmark it!

<https://uoft.me/AcademicContinuity>

Today, we have been able to add the following:

1. How to hold a class vote to change the grading scheme
2. Alternatives to Face-to-Face Assessments (including tips regarding take-home/online tests and exams)
3. Tips and Guidelines from AccessAbility Services (with thanks to Tina Doyle and her tri-campus team)

CTL continues to offer student programming, although support has gone fully online. Students may refer to the CTL website (<https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/ctl/>) or go directly to the individual support sites for information regarding schedules and booking tutorials and consultations:

- One-to-one Writing Support - <https://utsc.mywconline.com/>
- Math and Stats virtual tutoring - <https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/mslc/virtual-tutoring>
- English Language consultations - <https://utsc.utoronto.ca/eld/>
- Graduate Student Writing Support - <https://utsc.mywconline.com/>
- Facilitated Study Groups have transitioned to Quercus-based online discussion groups

Best wishes to you all,

Karen
