Textbook: Research Decisions Author: Ted Palys

Course policy: There will be two lab reports based on class projects and two examinations. The mid-term will take place on October 22 and covers the required reading in the textbook and class material up to Oct. 22. The final examination will occur in the final exam period and will cover class material and the required reading in the textbook throughout the entire term.

Lab reports must be handed in at class on the due date. Reports not handed in at that time will be considered late. Lab reports must be typed.

There are four components to the final grade, each weighted as follows:

Mid-term examination: 20%
First lab report: 20%
Second lab report: 25%
Final examination: 35%
