Required Reading:

There are two components to the required reading: textbook chapters and journal articles

Textbook:

The textbook for this course is Adult Development and Aging (5th edition). Authors: K.W. Schaie and S. Willis. This text can be purchased in the UTSC Bookstore. Assigned chapters are listed on the next page.

Journal Articles:

Another part of the required reading consists of journal articles (listed on the next page). Each of these can be obtained by accessing the University of Toronto Library website (<http://www.library.utoronto.ca>), going to e-journals to find a specific journal and the relevant issue, then printing the full text (PDF file) of the journal articles assigned.

Evaluation:

There are two examinations, a mid-term exam and a final exam. Each exam is weighted as follows:

Mid-term examination: 40% (October 19)

Final examination: 60% (During the final exam period)

The mid-term exam covers material presented in class and material from the required reading (textbook chapters and journal articles) during the first part of the term (i.e., up to the mid-term exam on October 19).

The final exam covers material presented in class and material from the required reading (textbook chapters and journal articles) in the second part of the term (after the mid-term exam).
